

EXAM RESULTS

Each exam series, students receive a form with their personal credentials for logging in to access exam scores.

Email Ms. Knight –Beth.Knight@palmbeachschools.org with your name and candidate number if you have lost the form distributed during exams.

November 2021 exam results will be published on January 10, 2022.

June 2022 exam results will be published on August

Understanding scores: Letter grades of a-e are passing scores, 'Ungraded' means a student did not earn enough points to pass the exam.

For the diplomas: scores of D, M, and P, are PASSING diploma marks. D = with distinction, M = with merit and P = pass

AICE Certificates will be issued approximately 3 months after scores are released. Graduates need to email Ms. Knight to make an appointment to pick up their certificate and/or AICE Diploma.

AICE Exam Results FAQs:

1. My score says ungraded, what does that mean?

An ungraded mark on an AICE exam is not a passing mark. Only scores of a-e are passing. The score of "e" can be looked at as equivalent to the "AP" grade of 3. It is passing to count towards the AICE diploma and would grant college credit.

2. Is it necessary to take a retake for all failed exams?

In a normal scenario, no, it is not necessary. There are two main reasons students sign up for retake exams:

- 1 - they are working on the AICE diploma and are working to acquire 7 passed exam points in three years.
- 2 - they are interested in earning the college credit for the course and feel strongly they would be successful at a second attempt.

Ultimately, the student has benefited from the internationally rich curriculum and the weighted GPA points, so re-taking an exam is not always necessary or helpful.

3. How do I know if my student is on track for the AICE diploma?

The students should check out the AICE website to review the AICE Diploma Guide to ensure they are completing exam points in the proper categories.
