School Mission Statement

Binks Forest Elementary prepares students with higher order thinking skills, responsible decision making and problem solving skills necessary to perform on or above grade level. Our school will foster a respect for diversity, and the character traits necessary to succeed in elementary school and beyond.

Media Center Mission Statement

Binks Forest Library Media Center is committed to working collaboratively with all stakeholders to provide a library media program that supports, complements and expands the instructional program of the school. The Media Center is the hub of the school providing services and materials for students and staff by bridging curriculum with resources. We provide a state of the art and creative learning environment where all students can experience a wide variety of literature. The Media Center is the center for all stories and voices where everyone is respected and celebrated. We believe all students will become literate and productive citizens of a global society.

Responsibility for Collection Management & Development

The responsibilities of collection management and development falls mainly on the Library Media Specialist with the collaboration of the stakeholders including students, faculty, administration, parents and district stakeholders. All stakeholders can request materials and books provided they meet state guidelines at any time.

The purpose of the collection development policy is to guide the selection, acquisition and weeding of library media materials to support teaching and learning at Binks Forest. The goal of the collection development policy is to ensure that students and teachers have access to an organized and centrally managed collection of instructional materials and technologies necessary to support instruction.

This document is fluid reflecting any changes in the curriculum, demographics, state statutes or programs of the school updating the collection and its governing policies. Collection development and management refers to the process of building and maintaining the library's entire materials collection, in print, non-print, audio visual and electronic formats so that they are available to every student at the time of need to support and enrich the student's educational experience.

One of the primary goals of collection development emphasizes efforts to build a current collection that supports our school community. Factors to consider are age of collection and books that need to be weeded, curriculum needs and student interests.

Library Program

The Binks Forest Media Center is part of a fixed schedule on the Fine Arts wheel. Students receive direct instruction during their library time in addition to checking out books. 43 oversized classes are instructed within a seven or eight day rotation. Due to lack of funding for the fine arts department, most classes have one and a half homerooms resulting in large class sizes that range from 28-35 students per fine arts class. Grades K, 1 and 2 are on a single day rotation which provides frequent visits to the library enabling students to check out more books. Grades 3, 4 and 5 are on a two day rotation.

The aftermath of the pandemic and new communities have led to tremendous population growth in our area resulting in a large increase in student enrollment. While the growth in population continues to rise, the increase in staff has not. With that said, my greatest challenge this year was teaching 43 overcrowded classes across six grade levels while maintaining a library media program, vetting instructional materials for over 70 teachers and following new state protocol for ordering materials. Thanks to my extremely supportive administration, I am on a fixed schedule 75% of the time which provides time within my day to complete the tasks now required by my position.

The Media Center opens daily 7:30 am to 8:30 am for students to check out books, take reading counts tests, code, partake in community projects, etc... During this time, we are also assisting teachers with lessons, pulling books, making posters, pulling supplies/materials and more.

This year's focus in the Media Center was celebrating all cultures and groups of humanity. Focusing on the positives and accomplishments of various groups aids in creating an environment of awareness and respect. Books were carefully selected to provide mirrors, windows and doors for students. In addition, on the morning announcements, I made it a point to explain the various holidays celebrated around the year by our community.

The Media Center promoted the Sunshine State Young Reader Award winning books. In regards to incentives for students to read the SSYRA list, the Media Center provided necklaces with brag tags for each book. Working in conjunction with the ELA teachers, students earned an SSYRA reading tag once they read the book and passed the Reading Counts test. Students had the possibility of earning 15 tags and having their name listed on the morning announcements celebration page.

The Media Center also hosted the school Battle of the Books for grades 3-5 where more than 40 teams with 200 students participated. The Battle of the Books after school club was sponsored by our library media specialist Mrs. Epstein. We celebrated our top three teams in grades 3, 4 and 5 with a VIP Private Make Your Own Ice Cream Sundae Party.

This year, we celebrated our avid readers. Students who read 1,000,000 words were interviewed for the morning announcements and their names were listed on the morning announcements celebration page.

Binks always participated in any event that encouraged students to read. During Literacy Week in January, Mrs. Epstein planned school wide events which included a variety of reading activities, dress up days and fun activities throughout the week.

In addition, Binks Forest participated in Read Across America, International Dot Day, Hour of Code, Read for the Record and Global Read Aloud Day. All events were promoted on the morning news and provided further enrichment with a variety of videos and music.

The Media Center also collaborated with numerous grade levels on projects including US Symbols and Coming to America nonfiction research with Pebble Go for second grade. March Book Madness with fifth grade, reading genres with fourth grade and more.

And for the grand finale, all of this is documented and shared on Twitter @EpsteinCaroline for the community.

Emphasis will be placed on collecting and updating materials in the 500's and 600's as needed to support the science focus of the curriculum. The library media collection includes all the resources available in the school library media center along with all those that students, faculty and administrators can access through interlibrary loan.

Students have 24/7 access to District provided databases and eBooks including MackinVia, Gale Research and Pebble Go, all of which are located in their student portals. Materials at Binks Forest support both curriculum and pleasure reading as per School Board Policy 8.12.

Equipment

The Binks Forest Elementary Media Center currently has 36 laptops for student use in the Media Center only. . Six have been provided through state funding, the remainder were purchased by media center fundraising funds generated over many years. The Media Center also has a variety of STEAM gadgets including Ozobot and more.

The TV Studio is currently closed until the fall of 2025 when our population resumes normalcy. However, currently in storage, we are housing two cameras, V-Brick, Apple laptop, screens, keyboards and furniture needed to produce the news.
