

School District Notable Business Partnership Support Engagements for 2020-2021 School Year

Business Partners Fran Nachlas and Leslie Strindberg Donate Backpacks to Help Kids

In preparation for the 2020-2021 school year, Congress Middle School received more than 150 backpacks and three large tubs of school supplies through their partnership with Fran Nachlas and Leslie Strindberg of The Giving Tree, to support the school's Title I students.

Nachlas had previously been recognized by the School District as the 2019-2020 business partner winner at the Gold level for Community Leader in support of public education through the District's Partners in Education Program.

Back to Basics Provides 21K New School Uniforms to District Schools

Back to Basics is partnering with the School District to provide 21,000 new school uniforms to elementary and middle school students in Palm Beach County during the 2020-2021 school year.

Although students may not be attending school in person on the first day of classes, there will be uniforms available when they do return to their respective campuses.

While the COVID-19 pandemic delayed some of the uniforms, 14,000 have already been distributed to more than 40 schools, thanks to the Rotary Club of Wellington who helped load and deliver boxes for each of the schools.

The remaining 7,000 uniforms are scheduled to arrive by late September and will go out to the schools as soon as they are received by the Back to Basic organization.

Power of Purpose Offers Virtual Fundraising Partnerships to Benefit District Schools

Power of Purpose organization will be reaching out to Palm Beach County schools during the 2020-2021 school year to develop partnerships that involve their 100% virtual fundraising program option, S.T.E.A.M. Engine!

The online donation platform allows friends and family from around the world to celebrate and support their amazing students, while helping schools earn much-needed funds to benefit school projects. Power of Purpose does 95% of the work and schools get to have 100% of the fun!

S.T.E.A.M. Engine ignites the power of students' imaginations and helps them build a better future. Schools will earn traditional fundraising profits, plus additional Bonus Bucks for teachers to spend on Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, and Mathematics equipment from Power of Purpose's partner, Thames & Kosmos.

To bring S.T.E.A.M. Engine to your school, please reach out to Chelsea Fredrickson, Ambassador of Awesomeness, at 212-217-2912 or chelsea.fredrickson@pop4kids.com. You can also visit the company's website, www.pop4kids.com, to learn more about the virtual fundraising partnership offer.
